Duty Of Candour Report 2021/2022

Duty of Candour Report

All Health and Social Care services in Scotland have a duty of candour. This is a legal requirement which means that when things go wrong and mistakes happen, the people affected understand what has happened, receive an apology, and that organisations learn how to improve for the future.

An important part of this duty is that we provide an annual report about the Duty of Candour in our services. This short report describes how Hazlehead ELC has operated the Duty of Candour during the time between 1st of January 2021 and 31st of January 2022. We hope you find this report useful.

1. To what extent did you follow the Duty of Candour procedure?

No action was required.

2. Information on policies and procedures

Where something happens that triggers the Duty of Candour, our staff would report this to the Senior Leadership Team (SLT) /Manager who has responsibility for ensuring that the Duty of Candour procedure is followed. SLT/Manager records the incident and reports as necessary to Care Inspectorate. When an incident has happened the SLT/Manager and staff set up a learning review. This allows everyone involved to review what happened and identify changes for the future.

All new staff learn about Duty of Candour at their induction. We know that serious mistakes can be distressing for staff as well stakeholders and their families. We have occupational welfare support in place for our staff if they have been affected by Duty of Candour.

Where parents/carers or children are affected by a Duty of Candour, we have arrangements in place to provide welfare support as necessary.

3. What has changed as a result?

No changes were required during this period.

4. Other Information

As required, we have submitted this report to the Care Inspectorate, as well as published a copy for parents/carers to view.
